

Southern Cross Technologies
Technology and Beyond

Information Technology Services

Southern Cross Technologies

Technology and Beyond

Website Services

Southern Cross Technologies can provide you with the best solution for online presence which will set you apart from the competition. Our focus is on providing professional solutions to address your organization's critical challenges. We can develop solution ranging from corporate websites to complete e-commerce solutions.

We have expertise in the following technologies:

- > Microsoft .Net 2.0
- > MySQL Databases
- > Unified Modeling Language (UML)
- > PHP
- > SQL Server Databases
- > Java Technology
- > Extensible Markup Language (XML)
- > Oracle Databases

Application Services

A comprehensive set of standards and guidelines has been established for supporting different activities of the whole Software Life Cycle including project management, system development (either by Structured Systems Analysis and Design, Rapid Application Development or Object Oriented Methodology), software testing, maintenance, quality management, resources estimation, software configuration management, etc. Some of our application development services include:

- > Graphic User Interfaces for Configuring Networking Devices
- > Networking Device Drivers
- > E Commerce Softwares
- > CRM Systems

Information Technology Consulting

We believe that, although all Information Technology projects have common characteristics, planning and implementation IT solutions must be done specifically for each organization and project. Business requirements, corporate culture, time and budgeting constraints and architecture of the client are all factors that make each project unique. IT Consulting Services from Southern Cross Technologies focus on defining, optimizing and aligning our client's business strategy with IT initiatives. At Southern. We use comprehensive Project Management and Software Development methodologies to provide the most efficient business and IT consulting.

Systems Maintenance

Progressive businesses regularly transform and update their business and technology strategies according to the latest evolving business and technology trends. This strategic operation requires businesses to maintain and support a broad range of existing IT applications, with a focus on developing new IT systems. Establishing latest trends and diversification is pivotal to our management of business and IT systems for our clients. We have relevant experience and expertise available for managing and future-proofing IT systems for various clients. We believe in implementing the latest business and technology guidelines for maintenance and support.

Please contact us for further information on client specific requirements and quote.

Southern Cross Technologies
Email: info@sctbpo.com
Toll free(US): +1 866 612 0182
International: +1 949 480 1884

